In my district, we use digital learning to provide online textbooks, meet Common Core Standards, administer online assessments and make data-driven decisions. However, the district is constantly trying to maintain the network required for total digital immersion. The E-Rate program has been a phenomenal success in bringing internet access to almost every classroom in America. However, the requests for funding are twice the amount of available funding. I respectfully urge the FCC to increase funding for the E-Rate program to at least $5 billion to meet this growing demand.
